Individuals Together Form Groups . . .

This book is dedicated to the students and teachers of USD 326 - past, present, and future.

Each of us is an individual, yet our lives are influenced by our friends and the people around us.

We should appreciate "good ole LHS" for the togetherness that stems from being with people we know and trust.

Working and sharing together are easily attained in our school system.

With a smaller number of students, we can become acquainted with everyone and lasting friendships can be formed.

The teachers can look upon each of us as individuals and give us personal guidance. We can look to the faculty for friendship, as well as guidance toward knowledge.

Each person may be a participant in the growing number of organizations offered at LHS. These help develop tolerance and character.

Each of us is needed to develop this sense of closeness. For this reason, we feel unique as individuals and dedicated to our school.

Kathy Jones*

OPPOSITE PAGE BOTTOM: Thelma Bushnell, school secretary, gives Wanda Bennett, Sandra Pakkebier, and Judy Erickson a few last minute instructions before the girls begin their day as student teachers and helpers.

TOP: Couples, such as Tony Sanson and Judy Erickson, find the library a good place for quiet conversation.

LEFT: Mr. Hiser, a student director from Fort Hays State, watches Reynold Kitzke closely to make sure a difficult rhythm pattern is played correctly.

Working Together . . .

Every day we all take a trip;
Not just a drag through main
But one around the school.
During our lives we are all participants and spectators, leaders and followers,

givers and receivers,
dreamers and doers,
 satisfied and dissatisfied.
Individuals Progress . . . and progression is dependent on individual performance.

OPPOSITE PAGE: LHS Band performs at the Fort Hays State Marching Contest. The band received a II rating.

TOP LEFT: During algebra II, Mr. Simoneau makes a point about the use of a computer to Todd Lappin as Judy Erickson and JoAnn Archer wait their turn to use the machine.

ABOVE: Susan Gartrell, Linn McDonald, Faye Reese, and Tony Sanson work after school to decorate Junior Hall for a Spirit Day.

OPPOSITE PAGE: Seniors carry out the theme of the 50's on Spirit Day by doing the bunny hop between classes. The seniors won the Spirit Stick that day.

We know what we want from life -
And we all try to achieve our goals.
We all have something to talk about
Either ideas to express
Or opinions to suggest.

As we ramble the halls,
We don't see 'teachers' anymore,
Nor do we see 'students.'
Instead we see people who have Acquired a quantity of knowledge - sharing it with those who haven't found it yet.

Make US Unique . . .

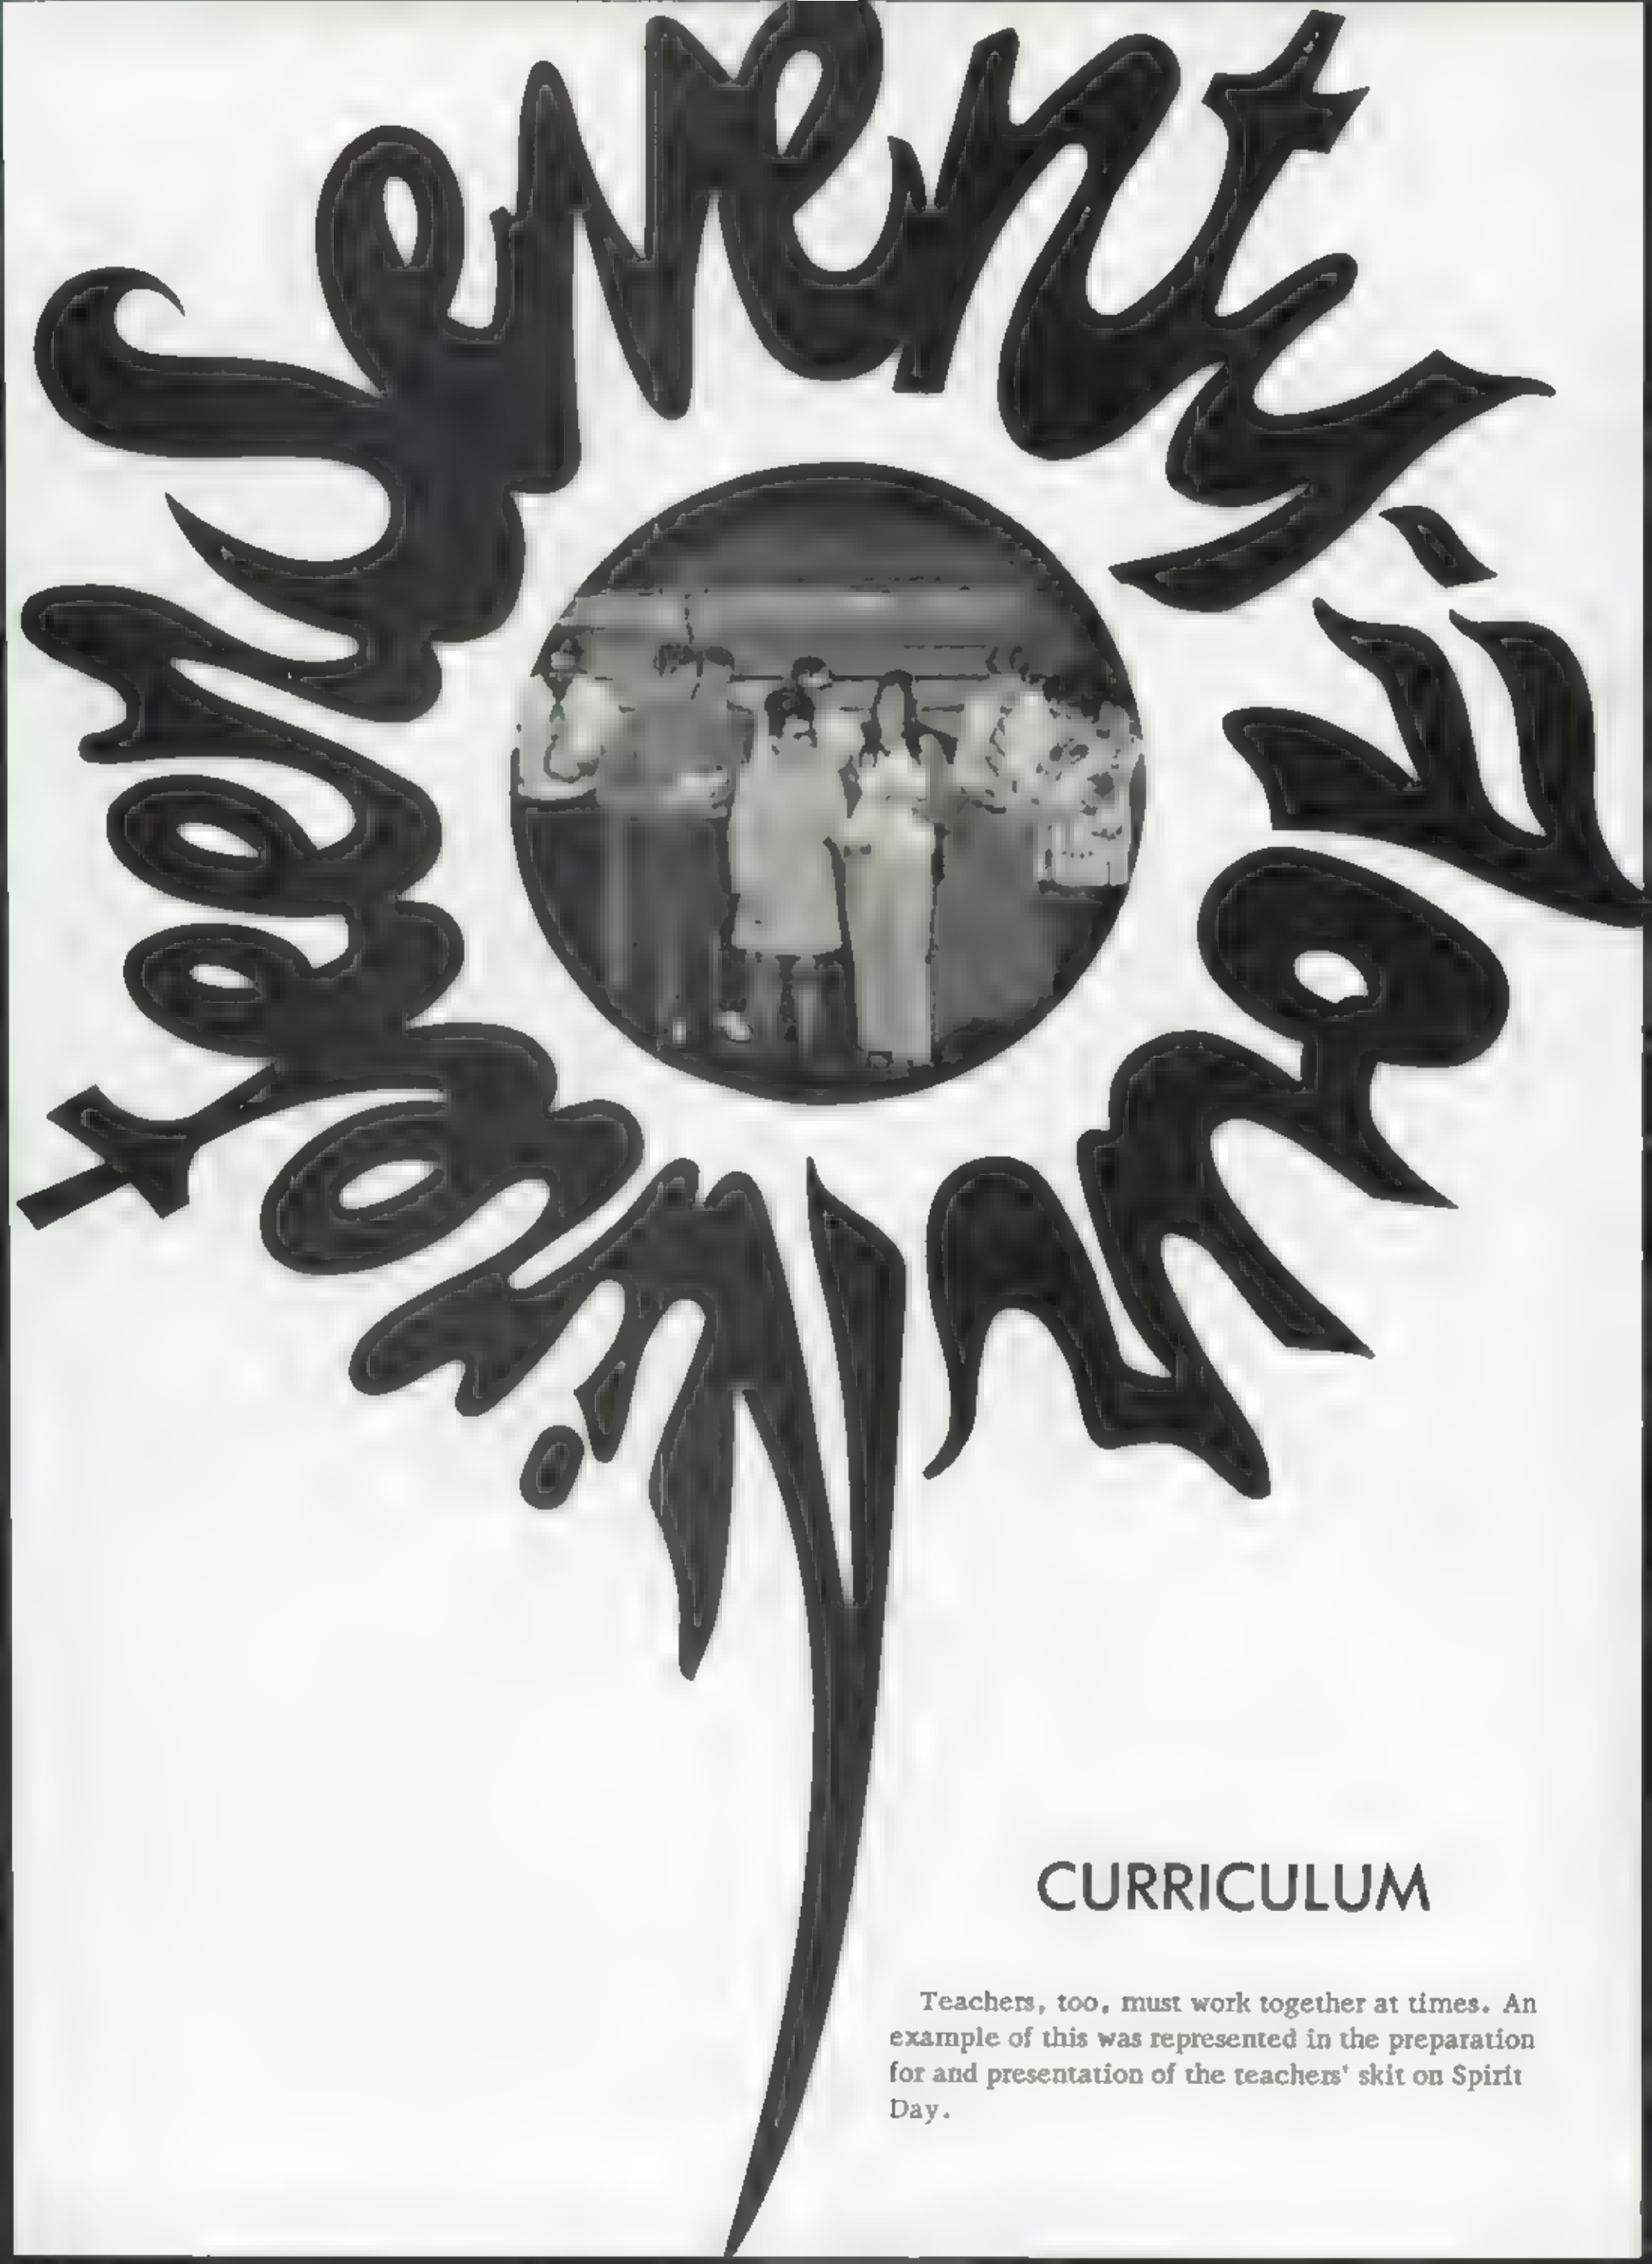

Every human being is a unique individual . . .
We all Live, Look, Love and Learn together

In our own individual ways,
Individuals together form groups . . .
and these groups are relative environments
for individual behavior.

CURRICULUM

Teachers, too, must work together at times. An example of this was represented in the preparation for and presentation of the teachers' skit on Spirit Day.

Superintendent, Principal Execute Board Decisions

The LHS administrative chain of command begins with a seven-member board of education which meets monthly to carry on the business of the district.

Superintendent, Paul Jones, executes the policies adopted by the board from his downtown office which is open eleven months of the year.

Mr. Jones is directly connected with each education center through his three building principals, Don Gleason, high school, Charles Dougherty, Logan elementary, and Roy Watt, Prairie View elementary.

Each principal manages the educational process and supervises faculty in his building.

Phillip Altman and Duane Scott serve the district as counselor and school psychologist respectively. Mr. Scott is retained by a co-op of area schools, traveling from one to another on a regular basis, working with each school in problem areas that deal with education.

Fine Arts and Research Are a Part of Education

A student's need for self-expression through music and art is not neglected at LHS.

A new class in the music department this term was beginning guitar, instructed by Charles Rouse. This course was designed to teach students the art of playing a guitar and to develop knowledge in music theory and skills in music technique. Other music courses include band and choir.

Kay Coddington teaches two sections of art. Students have an opportunity to try their skills in such areas as sketching, charcoal, water color, oil, ceramics and others.

Ione Hill and several assisting student librarians keep the well lighted library open for students to do research and reading.

Communication Is Vital to Life

The LHS curriculum includes several English and language courses.

Steven Robbins teaches three English classes in which he emphasizes the study of literature, drama, and grammar. He also teaches a current affairs class which stresses the events of today; and an American History class where students research the impact of historical events.

Sue Rouse, a three year LHS teacher, offers Spanish I and II and instructs one section of English I.

Audrey Getty, forensics coach, teaches English II and IV, Speech I and II, and psychology.

New to the faculty and a new department for the curriculum is Mike Lehning and Level III and IV Special Education.

Mr. Lehning holds a Master's degree in special education from Emporia State Teachers College. He refers to his area as an opportunity room where those students who have various learning problems can progress at their own rate without the stigma of competition for grades.

Marie Hogan teaches special reading in both Logan and Prairie View. The classes are designed to broaden the students' vocabulary and reading proficiency.

Physical Education Promotes Fitness

Physical fitness is as important to the well-rounded individual as mental growth and social adjustment.

LHS offers three courses which give students an opportunity to build physical fitness and learn some social sports on a non-competitive basis during three of their four years in high school.

New to the physical education program this year was sophomore phys. ed. for one semester taught by Ken Hanson. Sophomores took advantage of the swimming pool during the warm fall days, then moved indoors to learn tennis, handball, and trampoline techniques.

Karl Skinner, Ken Hanson, and Bob Sebbert have combined their efforts to teach the required freshman health and physical education class. Mr. Skinner works with the boys in the gym, Mr. Sebbert with the girls, and Mr. Hanson teaches the health portion.

Juniors and seniors can enroll in advanced phys. ed. which includes learning swimming, tennis, handball, badminton, trampoline, volleyball, and basketball.

Mr. Hanson teaches history, government and social science.

RIGHT: Paul Grammon puts power into a serve. The advanced physical education class practiced basic tennis techniques in the gym during the winter so they could be ready when spring weather set in.

Students Gain Practical Experience Through Vocational Courses

LHS offers several vocational type courses from which students can choose. These classes are developed to provide the student a practical area of study in wood-working, metal study, home economics, and business.

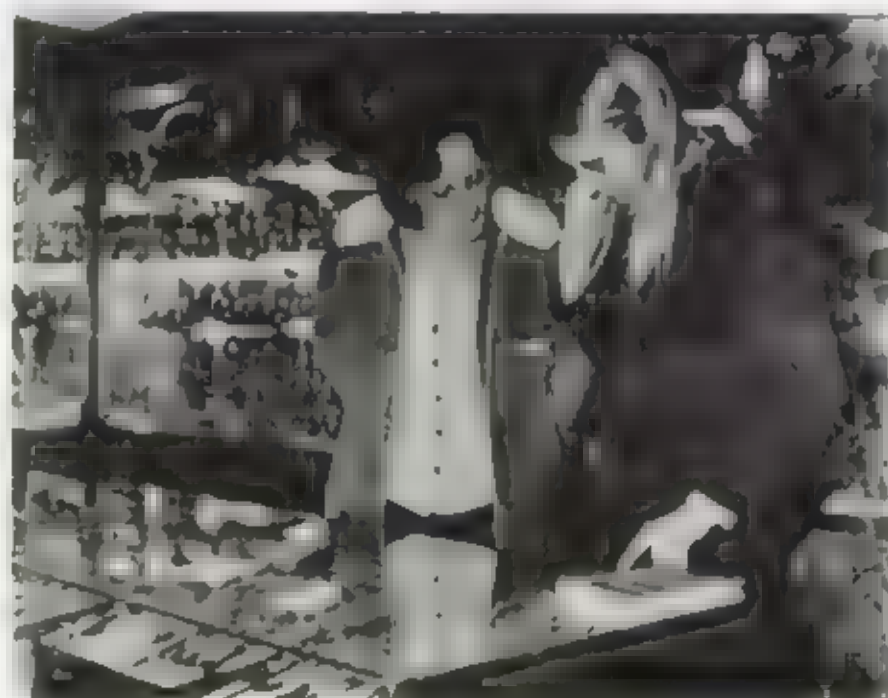

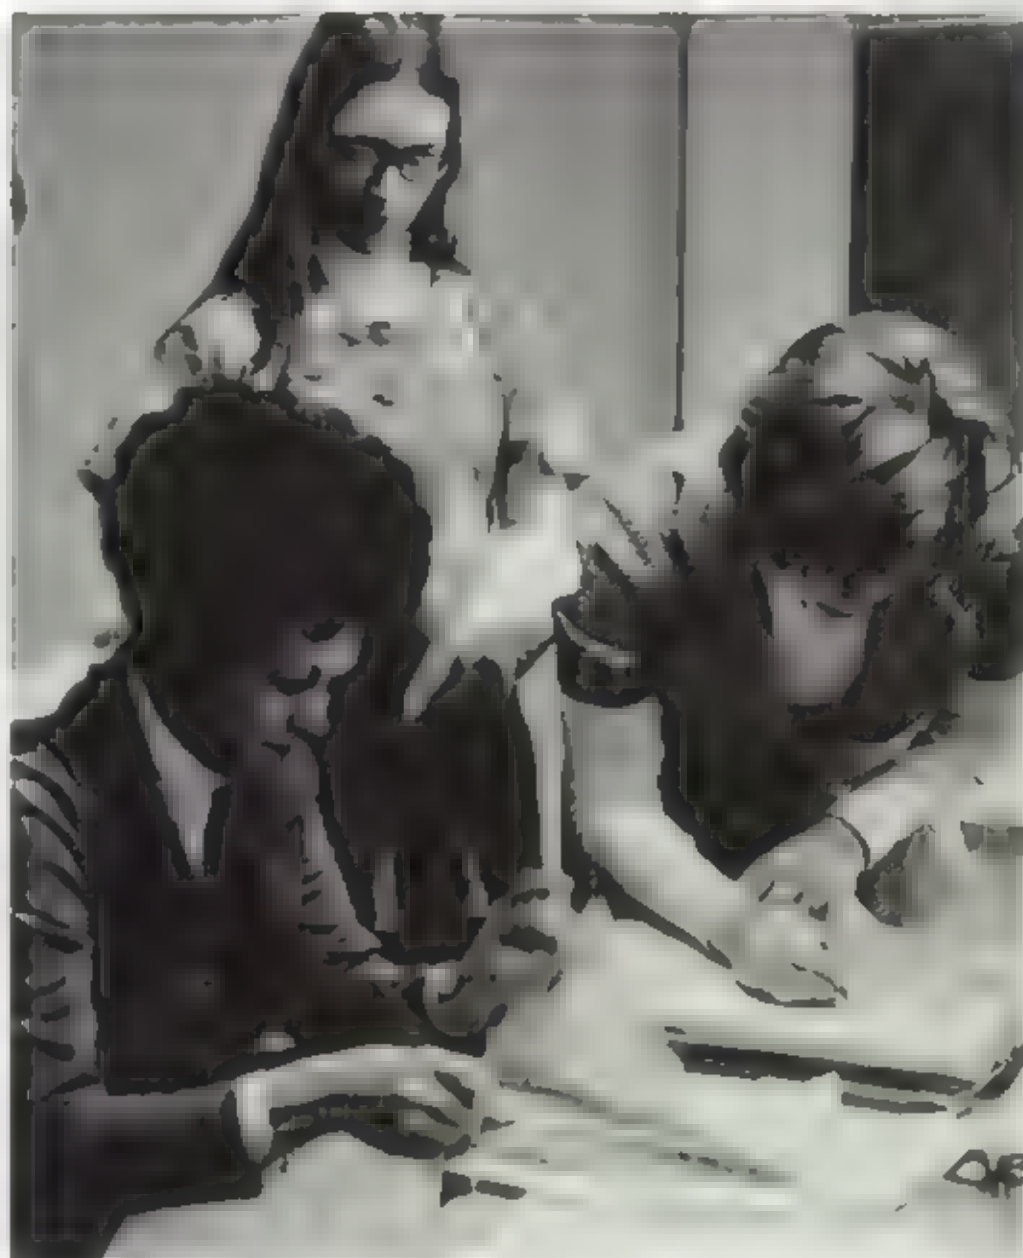

Mrs. Worcester teaches all home economics classes which include four units for girls and a unit for senior boys.

Mr. Seibert offers three wood shop classes for boys and one for girls. The courses are designed to give students a progressive study of project construction from a basic drawing to the finished product.

For young men more interested in the metal and automotive departments, LHS offers two units of welding and one of small gasoline engines. Mr. Thomas teaches these courses as well as driver education.

The business department offers units in elementary typing, bookkeeping, business law and general business. Mrs. Thomas teaches the business classes and a class in publications.

Math, Science Exercise the Mind

LHS offers eight units of science and math. New on the faculty this year, Mark Hall teaches general science, biology, and chemistry. Mr. Hall is a graduate of Kansas State University of Manhattan and calls Quinter, Kansas, his home town.

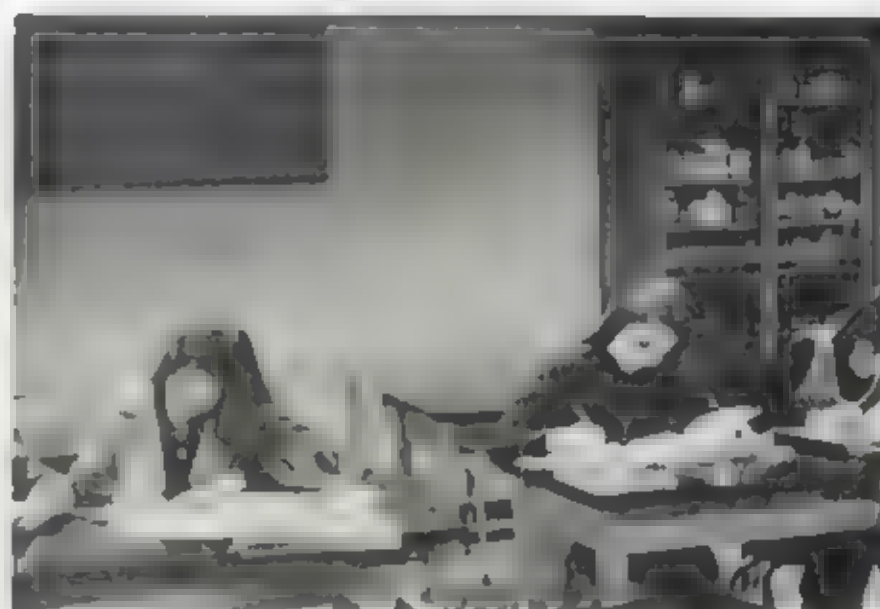

Mr. Simoneau teaches advanced math, practical math, algebra I and II, and geometry. Mr. Altman handles general math.

Bus Drivers, Custodians, Cooks Keep School Running Smoothly

Women's lib has struck the USD 326 transportation department! Two women, Sharon Stevenson and Louise Kincaid, have joined Carl Post, Jim Morris, Don Grunert, Dean Carey, Fred Wagner, Loren Broyles, and Darrell Stanton in the responsibility of bussing the nearly 200 students to and from school daily. The drivers travel approximately 140,000 miles a year.

At 7:30 a.m., USD 326 cooks begin preparing meals for the 300 students that will go through the line at noon. The Logan cooks, Dot Stanton, Lois Krouse, Sally Austerman, and Addie Hill provide the Logan students nourishing meals 178 days out of the school year. In Prairie View, Darline Brown prepares the mid-day lunch.

Even though students may not always notice the custodians, they are there as a vital part to keep the buildings neat and operating.

Angeline Nyland is the Prairie View school janitor. Floyd Kelly, maintenance engineer of the district, does the regular custodial duties in the Logan grade building, while Cliff Leidig takes care of the junior high and Cecil Brooks acts as janitor in the high school building.

STUDENT LIFE

A big part of going to school is meeting in the library to study and share with your friends. These are times that are remembered long after graduation. This learning to get along with people is something no one can teach in a classroom.

School Activities Keep Mr., Miss LHS Busy

Rodger Van Loenen, described by some of his teachers as quiet and reliable, was a Boys' Starter his junior year. He was elected vice-president of his sophomore class and Student Council representative his junior year.

Rodger has lettered in at least one sport during each year of high school. He has participated in football four years, basketball four years, track two years and golf for two years.

He played in the school band his freshman and sophomore years and was a member of the choir his sophomore and junior years. Rodger was a member of the play cast his junior year.

Rodger Van Loenen - Mr. LHS, 1973-74.

Sandra Pakkebier's enthusiastic spirit and outgoing personality were the most evident in her position as cheerleader, which she held throughout her four years of high school.

Sandra's involvement in Kayettes throughout high school led her to serve as Recreation Director her senior year. Twice she was elected to represent her class on Student Council. Her freshman class elected her vice-president and she served as junior class treasurer.

Sandra was a four year member of band and a two year member of honor band. Her musical achievements led her to being selected for both Lions State and International Bands. She was a four year member of choir.

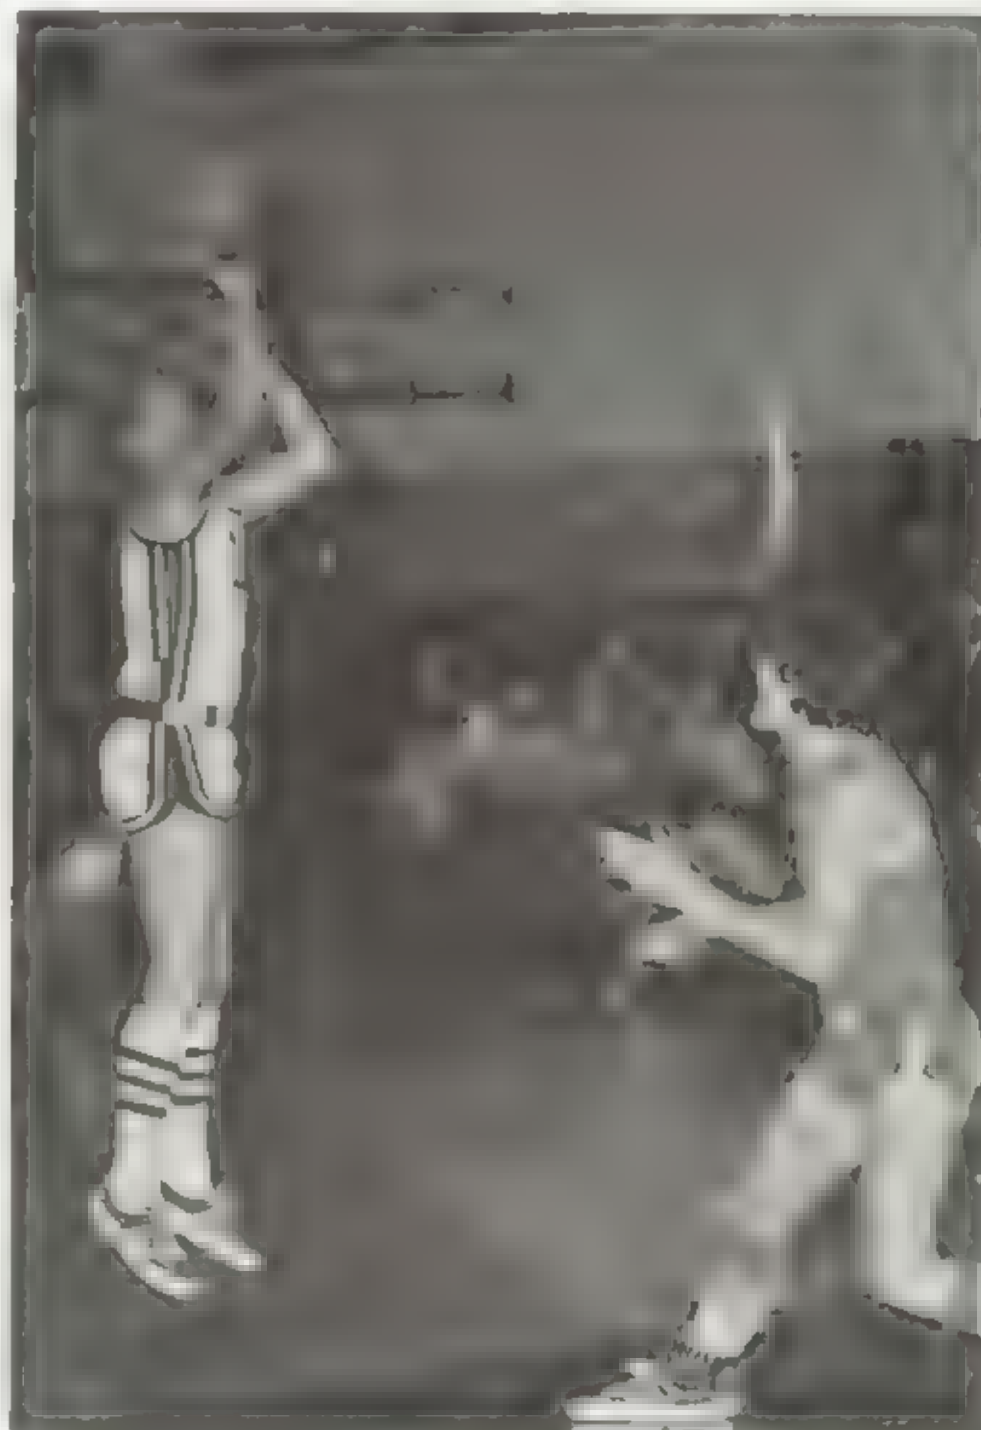

Sandra participated in girls' track her junior and senior years specializing in the discus throw.

TOP: Rodger practices a kick off during afternoon workout. He is kicker and plays end position on the football team. He averaged 41.4 yards per kick this year.

StuCo Hosts Annual Christmas Formal

The Student Council planned a 'Misty' evening for the annual Christmas Formal December 15, 1973. Eyes did seem to grow misty when Rodger Van Loenen and Sandra Pakkebier were named Mr. and Miss LHS for 1973-74 by Howard Siler.

Program introductions were made by emcees Shayne Hutchinson and Rod Boys. "Fields of Joy" was sung by a junior ensemble and accompanied by Karen Jackson. Bill Becker sang the theme song, "Misty," while the Royal Couple and Court danced. Pierodactyl, a rock group, provided music for the dance which followed the coronation ceremonies.

Flag Unit Receives I

LHS Marching Unit Takes II in Contest

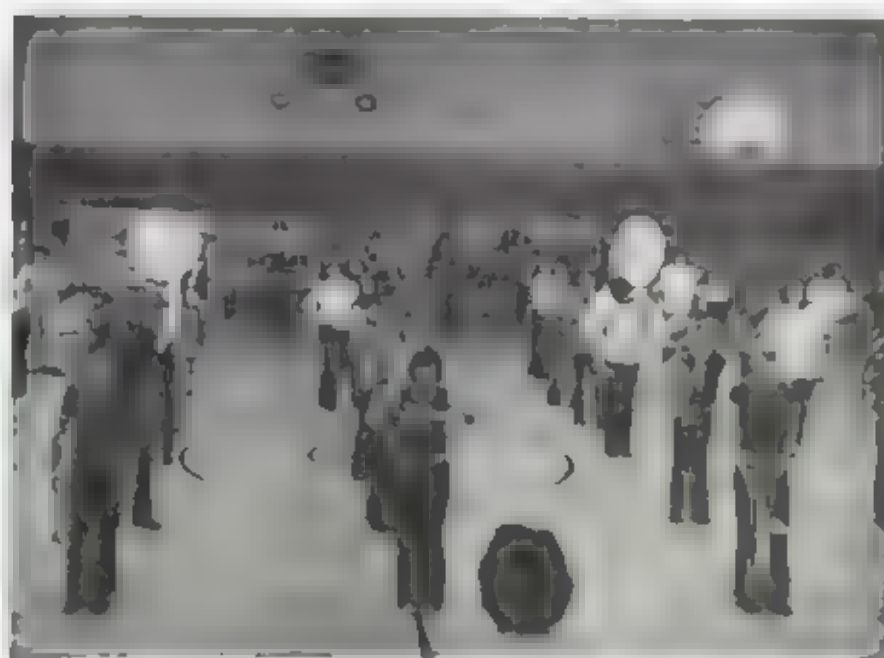

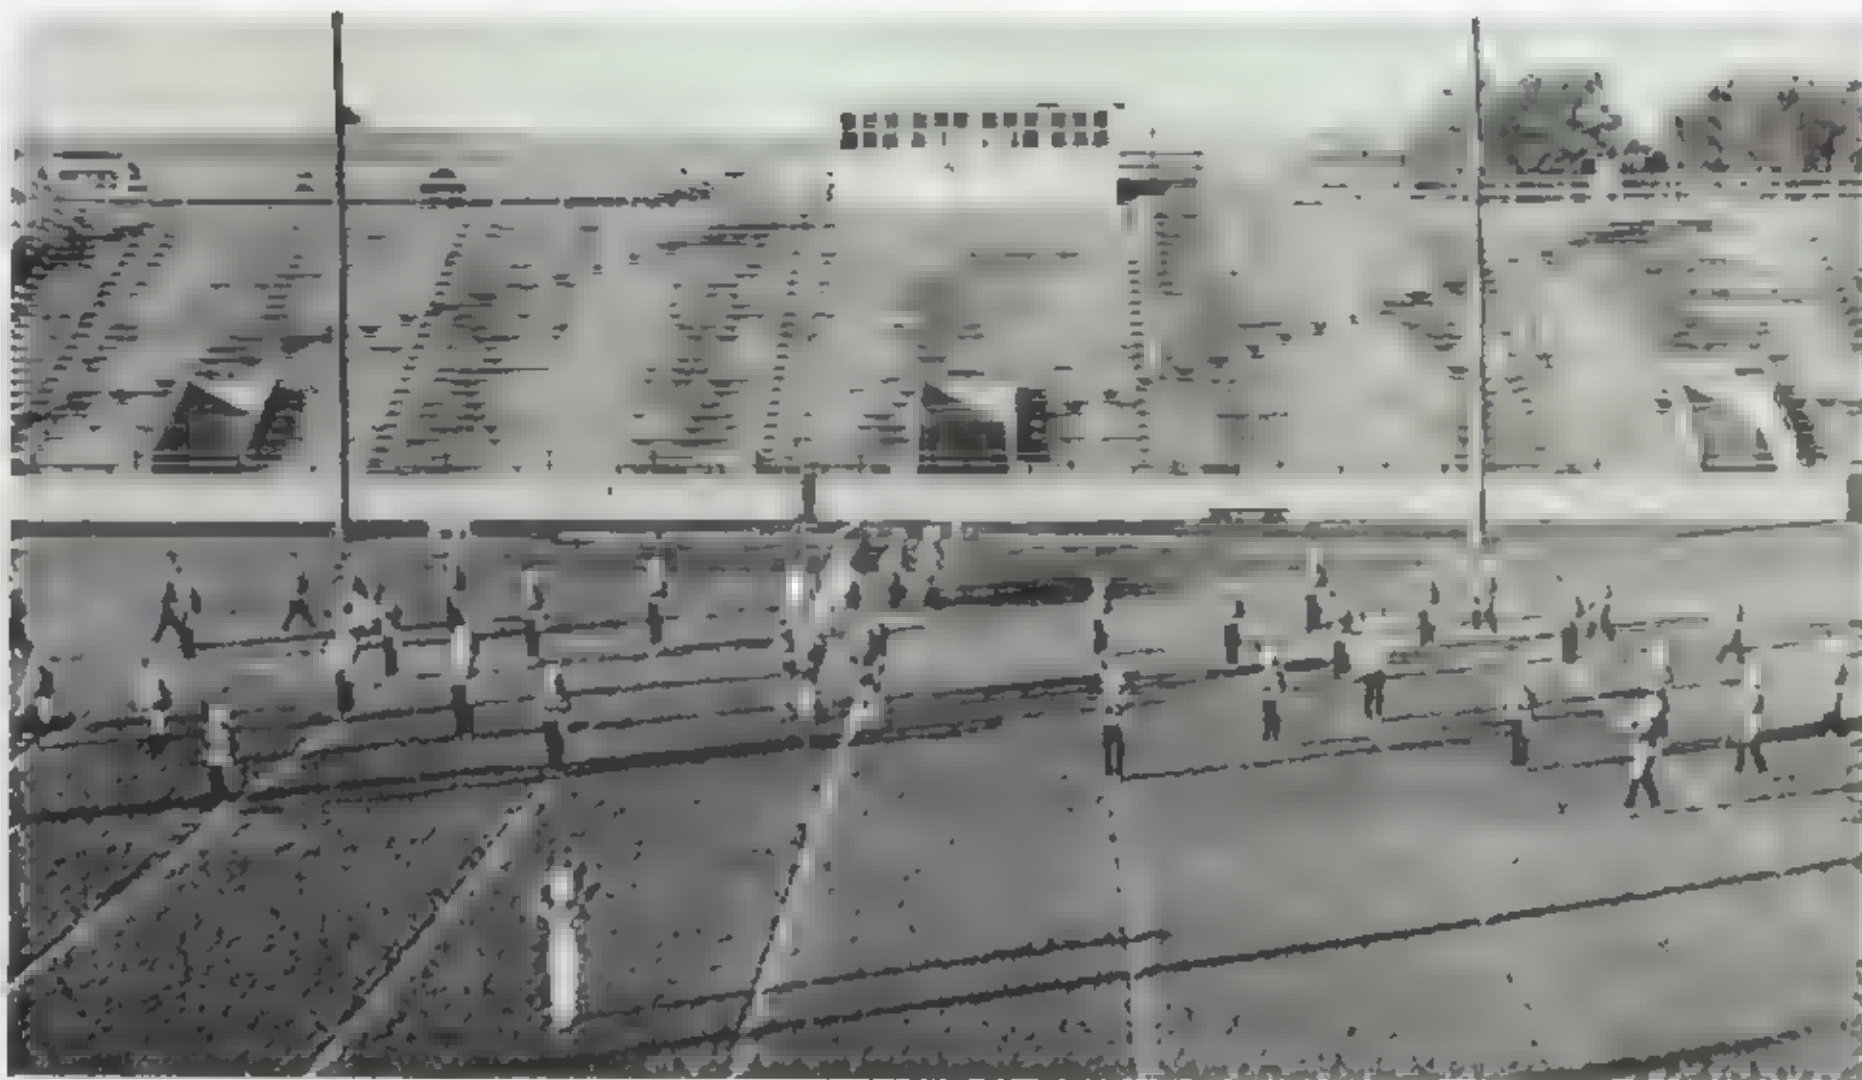

One of the first performances for the Logan Marching Band was Old Settlers' Day Parade in Kirwin October 8. The band also marched at Norton, October 22, in the Veteran's Day Parade, and did routines for most home football games.

The marching unit finished their activities October 27, at Fort Hayes State marching contest. They received a II rating. The flag carriers received a I rating for their routine and subsequently were invited to perform at a Fort Hays basketball game. The girls made this appearance in January, 1974.

LEFT: Although the wet fall weather doesn't seem to bother Ken Hanson, Jackie Kelly finds the only way to cope with it is to roll up her hair and slacks.

RIGHT: Rainy weather made it difficult for the band to march outside several days this fall, so they used the gymnasium on such occasions.

Concert Band, Ensemble Groups Rank High in State Contest

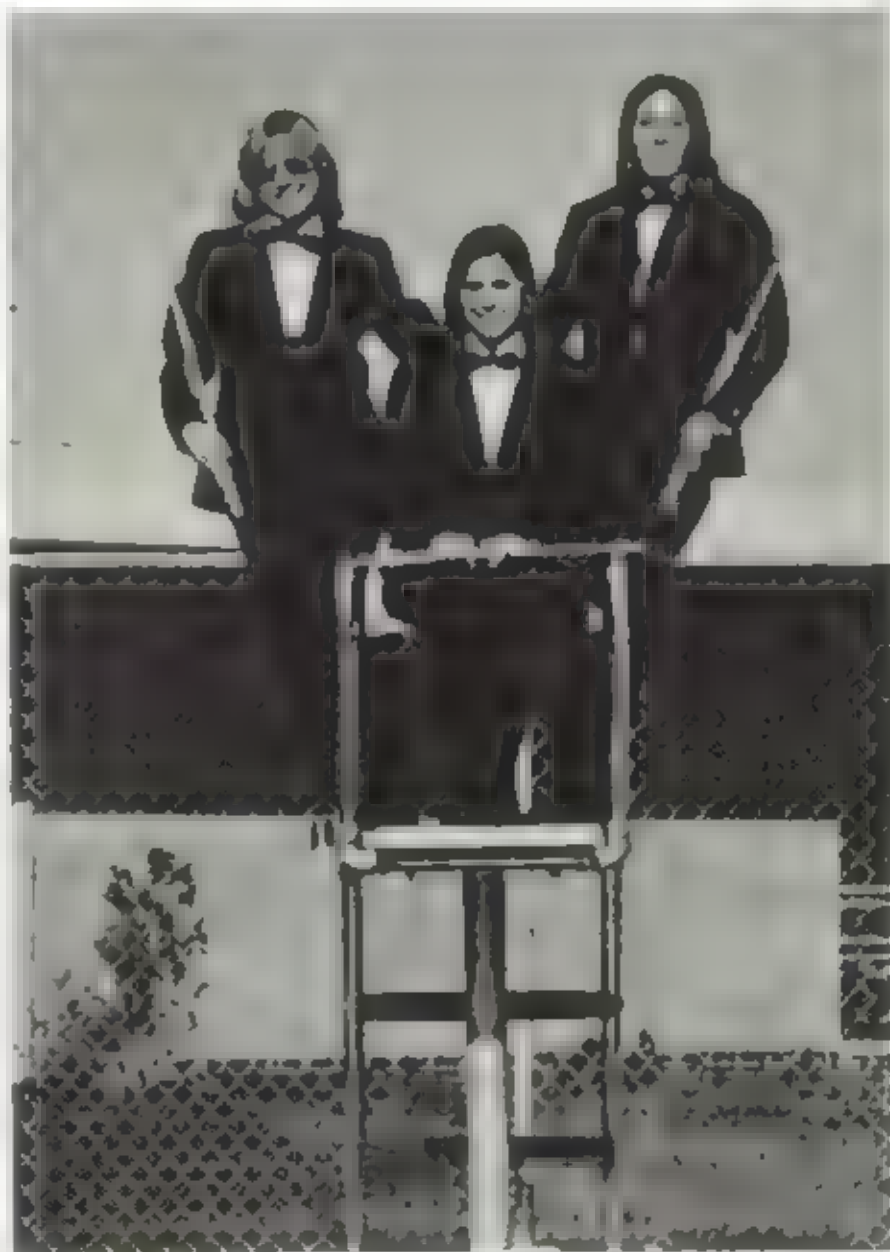

December 1, Pat Swindler, Bill Becker, Shirley Becker, and Dee Hanke participated in the KMEA District IV Band rehearsal and concert held at Hays. Each also auditioned for KMEA State Band positions. Of the four, Shirley was selected to participate in the State KMEA Band activities February 23, in Topeka.

During January, the band worked under Mr. Robert Hiser, a student assistant from Hays. Mr. Hiser, an undergraduate in Music Education from Fort Hays State, was participating in a course designed to give him a chance to observe a public school teacher and to practice teaching.

Fort Hays State College invited the Logan Pep Band to play before the game, during halftime and time-outs on January 12.

Logan High School, along with the Dane G. Hansen Foundation and Fort Hays State sponsored a band workshop March 26 for high school and junior high league school students. The Fort Hays band members gave recitals, mini-concerts, and advice under supervision of college music professors. The workshop was climaxed with a concert by the Fort Hays State Concert Band and Jazz Ensemble.

The Logan instrumental department returned from two days competition at State Music Contest with six I's, eight II's, and two III's. The Band received three I's and a II. Six ensembles were judged with clarinet choir, brass choir, and flute trio earning I ratings; saxophone choir, woodwind trio, and brass quintet receiving II's. The nine soloists returned with two I's, five II's and two III's.

The Logan Lions' Club chose Bill Becker to be their representative in the Lions' Club State and International Convention Bands.

State Band Camp was held in Topeka in June. The State band then went to San Francisco, California, where they performed with and competed against other state bands at the International Convention June 30.

The Logan participant is selected by the Logan Lions' Club from the list of junior band members who submit a letter to the club stating their qualifications and interest in attending.

Vocal Music Department Receives Praise From State Judges

This year the 80-member choir was directed by Charles Rouse and accompanied by Kate Rundle and Cindy Forsberg. At State Contest April 19, the choir and girls' glee were awarded I's for their performances. The freshman girls' ensemble also received a I rating. The freshmen sang their contest selection, "Choral Prayer," for Baccalaureate. They and the other groups sang their contest numbers for the Spring Concert, May 9.

The senior girls' ensemble and mixed ensemble earned II ratings in state competition while the junior girls' ensemble received a III.

Tami Pearson, Faye Ann Reese, and Karen Jackson entered vocal solos at State Contest and all received a II rating.

Dana Bushnell, Jaynelle Kelly, Ora Heersink, Karen Jackson, Tami Pearson, Faye Reese, Delores Brobst, and Jackie Kelly represented Logan at KMEA District IV Choir activities December 1. That evening the full choir presented a concert at Hays.

The Cheyenne Conference Vocal Clinic was originally scheduled for November 20 at Logan, but was postponed because of icy weather. The clinic was rescheduled for February 4, but was cancelled at that time because of the flu epidemic within participating schools.

LEFT: Mr. Rouse plays through an instrumental solo before assigning it to a soloist. He previews all solos before giving them to the student.

Illness Cancels Junior-Senior Play

Junior and senior class members chose "Tear Along the Dotted Line" by Jules Tasca as their play presentation for 1973-74. Mrs. Getty, director, and Mrs. Rouse, assistant director, viewed tryouts and assigned parts for the three-act comedy about two young girls and their first experiences away from home.

The date for the play was set for November 16, but changed to February 8 when play books did not arrive on time.

Practice went well during January despite some illness due to flu. Not until after dress rehearsal was a decision made to postpone the play because of the widespread illness. Cancellation was necessary because of no future open dates.

Seven Participate in Forensic Competition

Seven LHS girls competed in three Speech and Drama Contests during March and April earning a total of four I's, five II's, and three III's.

At league contest, Deb Hanke received a I rating on her informative speech and Linda White earned a I for her interpretation of prose. They both qualified for state competition by being ranked among the top three contestants at league.

Those receiving II's at league were Cindy Forssberg, interpretation of prose; and Kathy Jones and Nancy Zink, duet act.

Deb Baker and Wanda Bennett received III's for their interpretations of prose.

Four to Attend Girls', Boys' State

On March 4, Rachael Morris, Girls' State Committee Chairman of the Logan American Legion Auxiliary, announced Karen Jackson and Shirley Becker as 1974 Girls' State delegates. Ora Heersink and Susan Garrell were selected as their alternates.

Selections for Girls' State were based on letters submitted to the Auxiliary indicating their interest, leadership qualities, honesty, courage, average scholastic record, physical fitness and an interest in government.

Kate Rundle and Cindy Forssberg concluded the assembly with a resumé of their experiences at Girls' State last June.

Todd Lappin and Rod Boys were announced as the Boy Staters at an assembly March 19. If one of the boys is unable to attend, Tony Sanson or Shayne Hutchinson will fill their position. Boys' State activities were held at Lawrence June 2-8.

To complete the assembly, Rodger Van Loenen and Paul Grammon told of their experiences last summer at Boys' State.

Bea Bezerra

Foreign Exchange Student

Beatriz Bezerra, commonly known as Bea, arrived in Logan on Christmas Day to spend six months with the Don Forssberg family. Bea's home is Sao Paulo, Brazil. She is the daughter of Edgar and Maria Aparecida Bezerra. Bea has two brothers and one sister.

Bea enrolled for second semester as the first exchange student in LHS history. She took government, advanced math, chemistry, drivers education, English II, typing, and choir. She was a member of the girls' glee and senior girls' ensemble.

Kayettes and Pep Club were two organizations which she joined. For her enthusiastic participation in Kayettes, Bea was honored as February's Kayette of the Month and later chosen Kayette of the Year.

On May 14, Bea was graduated with the Class of 1974. She returned to Brazil in June where she will complete her high school education. She then plans to go on to college.

Bea made many friends while she was here and she will be missed.

Seniors Receive Various Honors

Mr. Charles Rouse, music instructor, presented two music awards at the Class Night Activities May 13. Kate Rundle was awarded the John Philip Sousa Award and Sandra Pakkebier received the Outstanding Senior Musician Award.

Following the Home Economics Style Review May 20, Mrs. Lola Worcester presented Sandra Pakkebier with the Crisco Award. The selection was made by home economics students based on personality characteristics.

Pat Swindler was recognized as the LHS recipient of the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award. She won this distinction by scoring the highest on a test that was open to any senior who wished to take it.

Seniors Conclude One Phase of Education Process

In May, 1974, thirty-five seniors were graduated from Logan High School and issued a diploma. "A Past to Remember, A Future to Share" was the motto chosen by the graduating class. Blue tipped carnations were the class flower and the graduates wore light blue and royal blue caps and gowns.

The commencement speaker was Mr. Ken Cochran, a coach from Marymount College of Salina.

SPORTS

The teamwork and cooperation that must exist among players of any athletic team parallels the teamwork and cooperation necessary to survive in the competitive world of today.

Grid Season Closes 3-5

Scores, Statistics, Tell Different Stories

Logan finished its grid season with a 3-5 record, but outshined their opponents in statistics. Logan had 1585 total offensive yards to 1497 for the opponents. The Trojans had 84 first downs to their opponents 63, and completed 40% of their passes compared to the opponents 35%.

The Trojans were hurt by 10 pass interceptions, some of which led to touchdowns, and by 570 yards penalties compared to only 402 yards against opponents.

Logan opened the season with an 8-0 overtime victory over Palco. Logan then lost to Quinter, league and state champions, and to Natoma after a tough defensive battle.

The Trojans went against Northern Valley with a 1-3 record and were victorious 21-0. The next week Logan statistically outplayed Ransom, but lost 32-8. Logan edged Lenora 14-12 on Lenora's field before losing the final game of the season to Downs.

The Trojans placed fifth in Cheyenne Conference standings.

Basketball Ends With 11-11 Record

Trojans Advance to Sub-State Tournament

The 73-74 Basketball squad ended the campaign with an 11-11 won-loss record. Logan advanced to the first round of sub-state tourney at Garden City but was eliminated by McCracken.

Trojan leadership came from two seniors, Rodger Van Loenen and Paul Grammon. Junior team members included Kent Legg and Linn McDonald, with Kenny Pakkebier and Pat Kolb representing the sophomore class.

One Trojan, Kent Legg, was selected to the Cheyenne Conference All-League Team. Legg led the Trojans in points per game average with 19.1 and Kenny Pakkebier was second averaging 13.1 points per game. Rodger Van Loenen was leading rebounder with 220 caroms for the season.

The B-team ended the season with a 5-10 record and the Freshman team closed with a record of 7-3.

Young Track Team Acquires Background

Ten boys reported to Coach Hanson this spring for track practice.

Logan scored 12 points to capture sixth place in the Cheyenne Conference League Meet at Ellis.

Highlight of the season came when senior, Rex Smith, threw the javelin 202'7" in the Phillipsburg Invitational Meet for a new LHS record and also a meet record.

Golf Team Works Under New Coach

Coach Mark Hall, in his first year at Logan, had 12 boys report for golf this spring. Golf was re-established in the athletic program last year.

LHS golfers competed in seven meets throughout the season including the Regional meet at Hoxie.

Logan also hosted the first Logan Invitational Meet.

The B-team golfers gained experience competing in meets at Logan, Quinter and Palco.

ORGANIZATIONS

To keep membership informed during the school year, meetings are a very important part of any organization. This time gives members a chance to voice opinions and make suggestions.

Zink, Rundle Lead StuCo Activities

The purpose of Student Council is to create better understanding and cooperation between students and faculty, to further good sportsmanship and to promote the general welfare of the school. The Student Council consists of eight members elected as representatives from the various classes and two members elected from the student body at large. Mr. Gleason, principal, is the adviser.

This year, under the direction of Nancy Zink, president, the Student Council continued selling candy bars and pop, sponsored the annual Christmas Formal in December, and the annual All-School Party at the end of the school term. In addition to these regular activities, the student parking area in back of the school was enlarged.

Officers included Nancy Zink, President; Kate Rundle, V-President, Sandra Pakkebier, Secretary, and Linn McDonald, Treasurer.

NHS Promotes Scholarship, Character, Leadership, Service

Four juniors and two seniors were inducted into National Honor Society this year. The Logan Chapter, now six years in existence, has a present roll of thirty-nine members.

Those added this year were Delores Brobst, and Nancy Zink, seniors; Shirley Becker, Wanda Bennett, Susan Gartrell and Karen Jackson, juniors.

These girls, as all other NHS members, were chosen by the LHS faculty on the basis of their scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Student Publications Require Time, Dedication

Meeting deadlines was a goal that had to be carried out by both the annual staff and the paper staff.

Deb Baker and Kathy Jones edited the 1974 Trojan yearbook with the aid of co-assistant editors, business managers, section editors and advisor. A workshop was held in the summer of 1973. Its main purpose was to prepare the section editors and other leaders to meet their responsibilities.

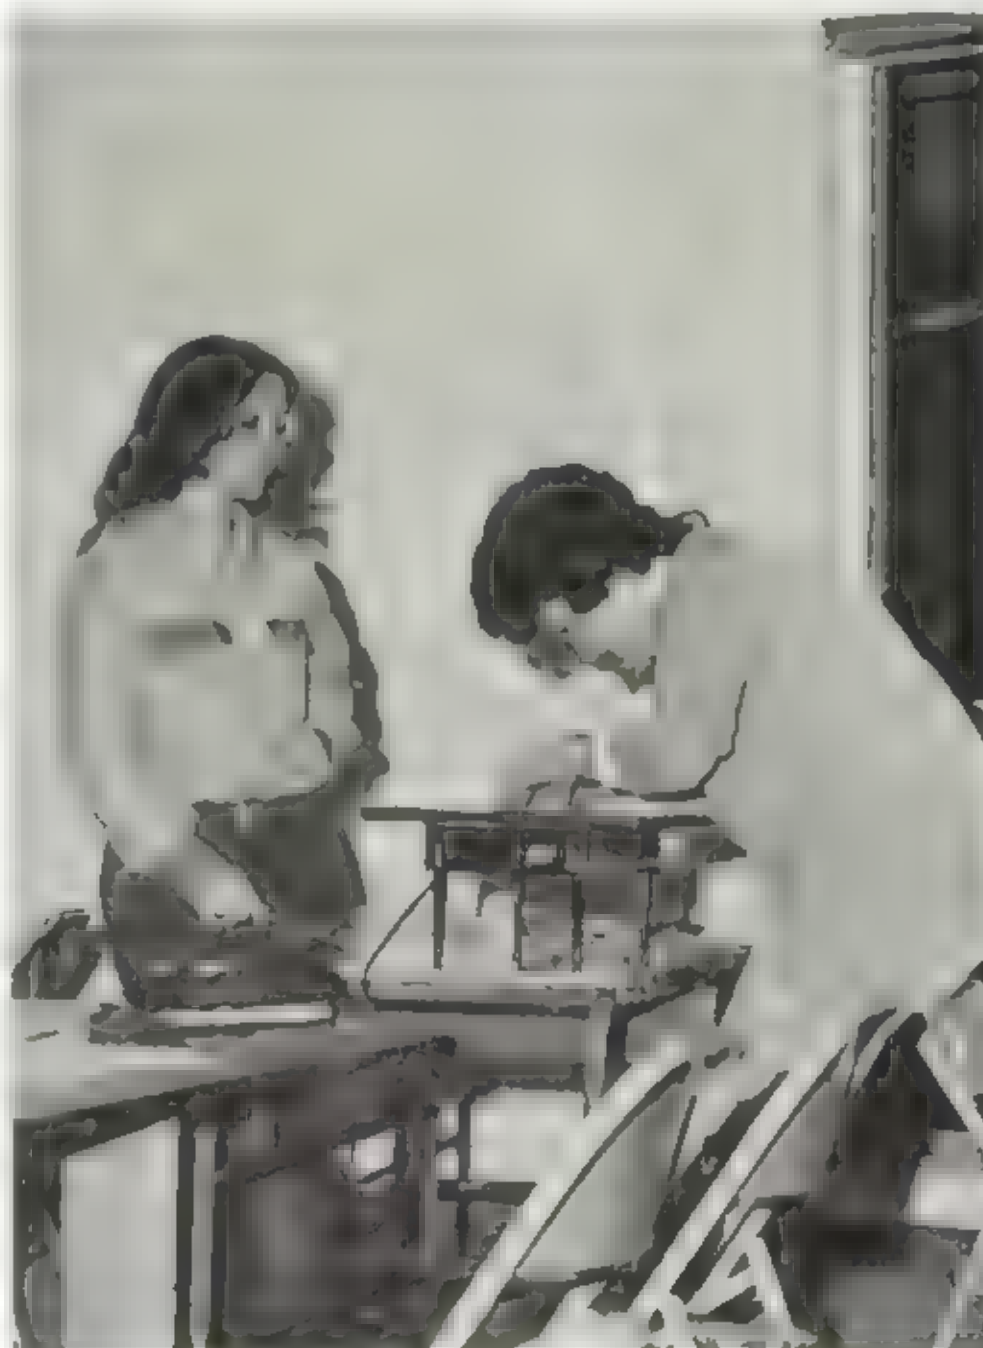

Publications is a class offered to juniors and seniors. A paper, filled with school happenings and various feature items, was published every third Friday. After the Christmas Formal a special picture issue was published and at the end of the year, a senior supplement was added to the regular issue.

Boys Re-establish L-Club as School Organization

After being dormant for one and one-half years, Letterman's Club was reactivated at LHS during the second semester. Those chosen to lead the club were: Rodger Van Loenen, president; Rod Boys, vice-president; Rex Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Craig Snider, reporter. Mr. Bob Sebbert and Mr. Ken Hanson served as sponsors.

Letterman's Club is limited to high school boys who have lettered in one or more varsity sports. Their purpose is to promote higher levels of sportsmanship, to advance fellowship among participants in the different sports, to be of service to the school and to see that only men who have earned their letters may wear them.

Although the year for the club had been short, both sponsors felt it was a good one. Mr. Hanson commented, "The boys seemed to know their purpose and they knew who they were representing." Mr. Sebbert felt that cooperation had been good. Both sponsors felt the major accomplishment had been in the financial department.

Pep Club Active in Boosting School Spirit

Pep Club boosted the Trojans throughout the football, basketball, track and golf seasons with hall and locker signs, vocal rallying, and send-offs.

A "crazy legs" contest was sponsored during football season. Penny votes were cast and Kent Legg, having the most popular legs, was awarded the grand prize at a pep rally - a pair of candy filled panty hose.

To increase enthusiasm before the sub-state tourney during basketball season, the Pep Club served individual cakes to the cagers, their manager and the coaches.

Along with Kayettes, the Pep Club members had a workday to earn money for the purchase of a bulletin board in memory of their departed friends, Amy Van Loenen and Debbie Koester.

Kayettes Earn 3,000 Point Award

Living up to its purpose as a service organization kept the Kayettes busy this year. Their goal, a 3,000-point award, was met after much hard work.

Besides the annual soccer game, hobo and dress-up days, and the Mother-Daughter Banquet, many other events filled the year. Some activities which highlighted the year were the Student-Teacher Day, spaghetti supper, and a party at the Norton State Hospital. A new community service project was an "Adopt-a-Grandparent" program. Each girl "adopted" an elderly person and gave them assistance in their daily living or just some company.

Girls Use 'Sunshine' Theme to Honor Mothers

"Sunshine" was the theme for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet held May 7, at the Logan City Building. Mrs. David Hensley, Prairie View, was the guest speaker. As a surprise for Mrs. Hill, Kayette sponsor, the girls invited her Mother, Mrs. Fred Miller of Cedar to the supper.

Cindy Forsberg, Kate Rundle, and Vonda Gingles provided entertainment for the banquet. Vonda presented a reading, and Cindy and Kate played a two-piano duet. The Lettermen served the meal which was prepared by the Ladies Guild of the St. John's Catholic Church of Logan.

Installation of the 1974-75 officers followed the banquet. Installation Ceremonies were held in the school auditorium.

In Memory of Debra Diane Koester

Debra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koester of Logan, was an active member of Kayettes, Pep Club and the LHS Band; having participated in each all of her high school years. She was a member of clarinet choir her junior year.

Debbie, as her friends called her, was interested in the field of nursing and was planning to attend Colby Community Junior College or Beloit Vo-Tech upon graduation from high school.

Debbie passed away February 3, 1974, due to complications from the flu. In her memory the Class of 1974 has erected a flag pole in front of the high school.

"Each departed friend is a magnet that attracts us to the next world." - Richter

In Memory of Amy Jean Van Loenen

"We understand death for the first time when He puts His hand upon one whom we love." - Mad. De Stael

A tragic pickup accident claimed the life of LHS junior, Amy Van Loenen, October 13, 1973.

Amy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Van Loenen of Prairie View, was actively involved with school, church, community, and family. She was treasurer of her junior class, vice-president of Pep Club, special programs director in Kayettes, and a member of the 1974 yearbook staff. Amy was also actively involved in band and choir.

The Class of 1975 has placed a gold-framed full-length mirror in junior locker area in memory of their departed friend.

EDITORS' NOTE The preceding list of names were taken from the Alumni Association rolls of each school and checked against the permanent records on file at the Logan High School office

Every effort has been made to print the correct spelling of each name. The source used as the correct spelling was each student's high school transcript. If anyone discovers their name incorrectly spelled, or a name omitted, please notify the Logan High School office by letter so the records might be made correct.

The sophomores use letters on red and white paper to spell out their support of the Trojans during spirit week.

Kathleen Zink gets out of the starting block in good shape on the first leg of a relay race.

As we near the end of our school journey we still wonder -

What is it all about?

Where has time gone?

We have suffered and known tragedy, yet we also experienced the grandeur of life.

Now we realize that

As long as the sun keeps shining.

Time will not run out -

So why not sit back and enjoy life

By finding all the beautiful things it has for everyone?

RIGHT: Nancy Zink tries to help Lana
Becker get her cap on during the excitement of unpacking caps and gowns.

BELOW: After a long day of touring, the Home Ec. IV girls couldn't pass up the comfortable couch in one of the Countryside Mobil Homes.

CENTER BOTTOM: The Boys' Family
Living Class watch as Wauneta Parsons shows them some basic cake decoating ideas.

OPPOSITE PAGE, TOP LEFT: Kate Rundle takes a break from decorating for Spirit Day to make a phone call.

OPPOSITE PAGE, TOP RIGHT: Karen McCue and Deb Baker were called upon to pose while Tony Sanson experimented with the 10-second delay timer on the camera.

A yearbook cannot be published without a lot of help and cooperation from many people. A big "Thanks" goes to each of these people who have donated their time and effort to get this annual finished.

Thank-you, staff!

Alma Mater

Wrapped in azure blue
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Bidding us be true
Lift the chorus still resounding
Through the busy town
Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Hail to white and brown

From the hilltops just above us
Looks she proudly down
Ever thus in song and story
Her name we'll ever bless
Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Hail to LHS
